

MISSIONARY CHILDREN AND TEENAGERS DEBRIEF WORKSHOP

Do you have a heart for families who are in missions?

Do you have a special place in your heart for children and teenagers who live outside their passport country?

Do you want to help these missionary children and teenagers process their losses and celebrate their uniqueness?

We at Excelling Leaders are thrilled to offer a four-day workshop so you can help missionary families be effective and resilient.

We don't want to call it a seminar. This will be a workshop where you will be involved in learning and practicing the tools.

Excelling Leaders has been ministering to missionary families since 2011. Our staff are fulltime missionaries who understand the unique challenges of cross-cultural living.

Carla Vegt-Mensinga and our children's debrief team will be leading this unique workshop. They come with many years of missionary experience and many years of working with missionary families and their children.

During the 4 days (25 hours of teaching) we will look at topics like:

- What is a "TCK"? What are their unique gifting as well as challenges?
- One of our values is that we believe God has called families into mission and not just (one of) their parents. How do we care in debriefing for the whole family.
- Finding a biblical model for debriefing in the Bible.
- How to facilitate a cross workshop in a debrief for children, teenagers and their parents.
- What do we do with the toddlers, can we debrief them as well and how?
- Tools for parents to help them raise resilient cross-cultural kids.

Each participant will leave fully equipped with:

- * A certificate of training
- * Training manual, which includes all the teachings and practical tools.
- * Hands on practice with peers so you can feel more confident to debrief in your own setting.
- * Additional resources

After the training Carla Vegt-Mensinga is available to coach you through your first debrief.
